ABOUT

As a burgeoning coder and aspiring product manager, I adeptly navigate the intersection of technical prowess and managerial finesse. My coding skills are finely honed, allowing me to craft elegant solutions and innovate with cutting-edge technologies. Simultaneously, I possess a keen eye for product strategy and user experience, ensuring that my technical implementations align seamlessly with market demands. With a knack for team leadership and agile methodologies, I thrive in orchestrating projects from concept to delivery, driven by a passion for both the code and the customer.
